Tyler: You are never too old to learn new skills.

Fabia: People don’t only work for money. What job we choose is affected by personal reasons or the desire for more personal and professional growth.

Karl: You can transfer many skills to a totally different job. Sometimes it’s worth having a lower salary in return for improved quality of life.
1 Taking early retirement is voluntary. Being made redundant is not.
2 Temporary secondment is a short-term transfer to another position, department or organization. Relocation is more permanent and is the transfer of a home or business to another place, town, etc.
3 Being laid off is the action of the company to employees (because there isn’t enough work). Unemployment (having no job to go to) is the result.
4 A sideways move means the person may be in a different part of the company or have a different job but there is no progress or development. A change of direction will bring new opportunities.
5 Transferable skills are already existing and can be used in another job. Updating your skills means learning new skills.
6 The ‘glass ceiling’ refers to the limit in a company you can reach in terms of advancement. In other words you can see higher positions above you but you will never be able to move into these for reasons such as gender. Opportunity for advancement means you have a chance to move up the company.
7 Corporate culture refers to the beliefs of the company or the way things are done at the company. These things are not necessarily formally written. Rules and red tape are formal and may be demanded by government law.
8 Training is a formal situation where a ‘trainer’ works with employees. Personal development refers to broader ways of learning and developing, for example being assigned new responsibilities, reading a trade journal or attending a conference will all help the employee ‘develop’.

Possible answer: Ian’s main message is that high staff turnover is expensive and your workforce is your most important resource.

They invest in internal development programmes, redeploy or promote staff into vacancies where possible (offer job mobility) and celebrate success.

Practically speaking

The first speaker wants the other person to 1 answer a survey
2 help with a computer
3 check an email
4 help with the photocopier
5 look at some figures
6 help with the holiday roster.

Speaker 2 agrees to help in 1, 4, 5, 6 (though not immediately).

1 Yeah, sure.
2 Sorry, I’m a bit busy right now. (Oh, well, never mind.)
3 Sorry, I’m just on my way to a client’s. (OK, it’s not that urgent.)
4 Give me two minutes and I’ll be right with you.
5 Certainly. Take a seat.
6 Sorry, no time! … I’ll look at it later. (OK.)

Possible responses

1. advantages: to develop valued staff, to gain know-how, to provide a good incentive disadvantages: reverse culture shock, potentially lose good staff to overseas companies, need to offer expensive incentives on return
2. money and finance, education, infrastructure, less opportunities, overall standard of living
